

TAFT EXPECTED FALL OF DIAZ

It Was Feared That Anarchy
Would Follow.

CAUSE OF MILITARY MOVE.

Troops Were Hurried to Texas Ready to Cross the Rio Grande if the Occasion Demanded—Four Democrats and Four Republicans Will Bear Brunt of Congress Battles.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, April 13.—(Special.)—President Taft ordered the troops to the Mexican border because he was informed from Mexico that the Diaz government was attempting to fall, that anarchy would follow the disruption of the Diaz power, that lives of American citizens were in jeopardy and that their property would be destroyed. He wanted to have the troops near enough to protect the lives and property of American citizens and to prevent a reign of anarchy in Mexico.

Different statements have been made as to the purpose of the troops on the border, but it seems probable that this is the actual fact. Certainly it is not a fact that they were sent there for maneuvers, as first given out, or that they are there to patrol the border and prevent the filibusters furnishing arms to the revolutionists, for two regiments would have been all that was necessary.

Ready to Cross Rio Grande.
Beyond question the troops were sent to protect American lives and property in Mexico and to prevent a reign of misgovernment. If the time comes when it is necessary to do so they will cross the Rio Grande.

The president and those close to him believe that the country will justify everything that has been done as soon as all the facts are known, and it is not considered courtesy to Mexico at this time to make public the situation as here stated.

The Lineup in the House.
As we say in football, here is the lineup in the house as developed up to the present time: On the Democratic side are Underwood of Alabama, Fitzgerald of New York, Henry of Texas and Sherry of Kentucky. They may be called the big four in the front line of battle.

On the Republican side Mann and Cannon of Illinois and Dabell and Olmstead of Pennsylvania will bear the brunt of battle as the first four. Of course both sides have some very fine skirmishers and good fighters ready for the fray and at hand when called upon. But these eight will be the most conspicuous in the political battles of the Sixty-second congress.

Joe Bailey's Power.

No greater sensation was created on the closing day of the last congress than the resignation of Senator Bailey because his party voted against him in favor of the admission of Arizona with her constitution containing the initiative and referendum and the recall of all officers.

And yet Bailey's power in his party was demonstrated when he named his man for the minority leader against the opposition of the progressive Democrats and the influence of Bryan, who was on the ground at the time.

Mondell's Appalachian Speech.
Congressman Mondell of Wyoming and Congressman Lawrence of Massachusetts had been "joshing" each other, and finally Lawrence said:

"Well, I tell you I came to the conclusion that Mondell is all right. That was when he consented to vote for the Appalachian and White Mountain forest bill."

"And a few minutes after I had made that promise," said Mondell, "Senator Burton of Ohio came to me and said: 'Mondell, I want to get a copy of that speech you made against the Appalachian and White forest bill. The matter is coming up in the senate, and I want to oppose it. I consider that speech the best yet made in opposition to it. The facts as to why that reservation should not be created are more forcibly and compactly stated in your speech than in any document I have seen.' I gave him a copy of the speech," concluded Mondell, "and he made a strong argument against the bill. And he was right."

Must Come in Together.

New Mexico and Arizona must travel the same road to statehood. They have been coupled with each other for many years, about half a century in fact, and the Democrats do not propose that New Mexico shall be admitted unless Arizona also becomes a state at the same time.

Chairman Flood of the house committee on territories has introduced a joint resolution to approve both constitutions. This will be one of the measures passed by the present house.

Their Jewish Constituents.

Four New York city men have introduced resolutions for the abrogation of our treaty with Russia. Harrison and Goldfue did the unusual thing of jointly introducing a resolution. Sulzer and Culler both have resolutions tending to the same end.

The treatment of Jews by Russia is one reason for this action, especially the manner in which Jewish citizens of the United States are treated when they go to Russia.

TEXT BOOK BILL

that the Senate adjourn, which carried by a vote of 13 to 13, the hour of reassembling being fixed at 10 o'clock this morning.

Treasurers May Lose Jobs.

City treasurers all over the state are in danger of losing their jobs, if the House passes the Purinton bill, which was acted upon favorably yesterday by the Senate. The bill says that municipal councils may abolish the office of city treasurer if they choose where there is already a city depository to take care of funds. The bill passed without a dissenting vote and is for the relief of smaller cities and townships.

Written Permission Necessary.

The Finley bill, on which both Houses have concurred, makes it a trespass for telephone or telegraph companies to enter any building or alter the wiring without securing written permission from the owner or his agent, who may or may not, as he chooses, be present when the proposed changes are made. The permission must be granted, however, upon proper application from a reputable company.

More for Fire Marshal.

Additional powers of considerable importance were bestowed upon the state fire marshal in his right to inspect and condemn buildings which are a menace to neighboring property, in the Cetone bill, which passed the Senate yesterday. The bill produced a tilt between Senators Cetone and Yount, but after it had been amended so that it left municipal officers with all the power they have possessed in such matters and only bestowed new power on the state fire inspectors, it was passed without a dissenting vote.

For Public Instruction.

The Morris bill, passed by the Senate, allows the state dairy and food commissioner to arrange to give public instruction and to inaugurate a campaign of education with regard to all matters pertaining to the dairy industry, sanitary inspection and various tests which may be applied to test the purity of foodstuffs. Sanitation in places where food is handled or prepared is also included the things to be taught the public. It awaits the governor's signature.

Nonpartisan Delegate Bill.

Representative Wyman will probably have charge of the Green bill, providing for the nonpartisan election of delegates to the constitutional convention next year, when it goes to the house. It will be messaged over as soon as the bill has been printed. This was ordered done by the senate. Clear sailing for the measure is predicted.

Senator Cahill said yesterday he wished it understood that he voted for the Green nonpartisan delegate bill. He said he also favored the administration amendments.

Thatcher Disbarment Case.

By a vote of 79 to 7 the house today passed the senate bill which abrogates the disbarment order of the supreme court and allows Chas. A. Thatcher of Toledo to resume the practice of law. During the debate on the bill the supreme court received a severe arraignment at the hands of several representatives and Speaker Vinson had to rap repeatedly to subdue the applause these attacks called forth. The bill is now up to Harmon and a rumor says heavy pressure will be exerted to get him to veto it.

Representative Smith of Butler said that the supreme court judges had tried to lobby against the bill while it was in committee.

BROWNE GROCERY WILL OPEN SATURDAY WITH FULL LINE

The J. M. Browne Sons grocery receivership was terminated Thursday morning when Daniel Althoff's report to Judge Seward was confirmed. The purchaser of the store is Mr. William Kellenberger, who has associated with him in the business Samuel Browne, who for many years has been a partner in the well known grocery.

Mr. Kellenberger needs no introduction to Newark people. For a number of years he was in the milling business, the firm being Sites & Kellenberger, but recently Mr. Kellenberger has given his attention to insurance.

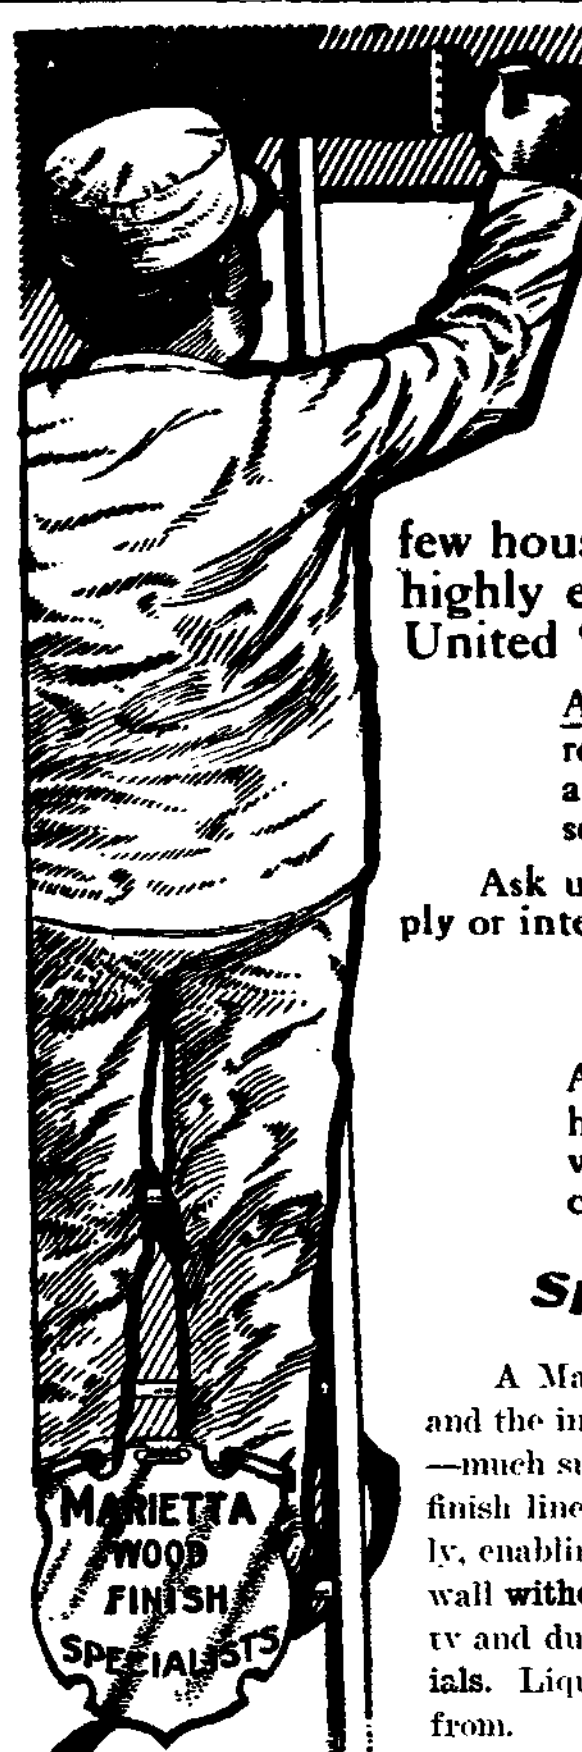

The store will be re-stocked immediately with all the well known lines of groceries and brands of goods for which Browne's has long been famous, and the store located in the Arcade and Union block will be open for business next Saturday morning, April 15.

Aurora Paint

Aurora Paint is to general painting what Marietta wood finishes are to the furniture, piano and architectural trades. These trades demand a degree of perfection which few houses can supply. Marietta leadership in this highly exacting field is recognized throughout the United States and Canada.

Aurora is a pure linseed oil and lead paint—ready mixed—that goes farther, lasts longer and looks better than other paints. In that sense it is the cheapest paint you can buy.

Ask us about Aurora or anything in the paint, painters' supply or interior decorators' line.

Spartan Stain

A practical varnish stain for popular use in homes. Preserves, beautifies and renews floors, woodwork, furniture. A score or more of colors. Ask a practical painter.

Spartan Art Wall Finish

A Marietta product for decorating walls, ceilings and the interior woodwork of public buildings. Sanitary—much superior to wall paper. A top-notch in the flat finish line. Elastic, easy flowing as oil paint. Sets slowly, enabling the practical painter to do a large ceiling or wall without lapping. Imparts a rich, velvet finish, dainty and durable. Made entirely of non-poisonous materials. Liquid or paste, as you like. Twenty tints to choose from.

This time it is Frederic Williard, one of Newark's old and well known citizens, who passed away at his home, 51 South Fifth street, at 6:45 o'clock Thursday morning, after an illness of some time with a complication of diseases peculiar to advanced age, he being 82 years old at the time of his death.

The deceased is survived by his widow and five children. They are Ora, Nelson and William, and Mrs. Samuel Patrick and Mrs. May Tanner, all of this city.

The deceased was born in Washington county, Pa., in 1829, and when 22 years old he came to Licking county and settled near Lincolnton. At the breaking out of the civil war he enlisted in the Tenth Ohio Cavalry, in Company A, under Capt. Thayer. At the close of the war he came to Newark, where soon after he was married to Miss Margaret Willard, daughter of William and Sarah Willard, who lived some four miles south of Newark. From this union six children were born, one of whom died some years ago.

Mr. Williard was a member of Lemert Post, No. 71, G. A. R., and the funeral will be held under the auspices of the old soldiers Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment in Cedar Hill cemetery.

THOMAS BUCHANAN.

Mr. Thomas Buchanan, a veteran of the civil war, passed away at the home of his son, Leonard D. Buchanan, on 2000 street, in the West End, Wednesday night about 12:30 o'clock, after an illness of over a year. The remains will be taken to Frazee's, leaving here on Friday morning on B. & O. train No. 10. The funeral services will be held in the church at 2 o'clock. The funeral will be under the auspices of the old soldiers.

Immediately on their arrival here they were taken to the Baptist church, where the funeral services were held at 12:30 o'clock, conducted by Dr. C. J. Baldwin, assisted by Rev. T. J. Field, after which the interment was made in Maple Grove cemetery.

Rioters In France Start Fresh Fires And Troops Called

(Paris, April 12.—A dispatch) today from Lyons says that the wine rioters there have started a fresh fire and a village is in danger of total destruction. Thirty thousand troops, comprising an entire cavalry and artillery division, are being sent to the wine-growing region to suppress the rioting.

The wine growers say they won't be a wine press, cellar or vineyard left in the Rhone-Marne district unless the government promises to block the anti-temperance bill passed by the senate. The officials say 50,000 troops will be thrown into the district if necessary.

Noon reports say pillaging continues in many towns. Violence is barricaded against the troops, with prospects for a bloody clash. Two thousand wine growers are reported marching against thieves and rioters have cut many telegraph and telephone wires.

EXHIBITION GAMES WITH FLINT TEAM

Locals Will Play Michiganers Saturday and Sunday and Journey to Zanesville Tuesday and Wednesday.

Rain again interfered with the exhibition game booked with Zanesville Wednesday afternoon and as a consequence the only work done by the squad in charge of Manager Al Newnam was a little running exercise in the park.

Owner Kiene has certainly been unfortunate with his exhibition games, which he had booked. He smiles through it all, however, and says that better weather is on the way.

Friday afternoon the Colts will endeavor to put one over on the Regulators and if the weather permits there ought to be a great turnout of the fans and bugs.

The last Flint team of the Michigan State league will play at Wehrh Park Saturday and Sunday. If the weather is right they should be greeted by a large crowd. Manager Newnam is going to pick a lineup that he thinks will be able to deliver some goods, and there is some rare sport in sight.

The club will journey to Zanesville Tuesday and Wednesday of next week and open the league season here with Portsmouth on Thursday. The Champs will probably pitflore and the big fellow states that he is in the pink of condition. Manager Newnam will have several new faces on the Newark lineup and Portsmouth will have to travel some to annex the first game away from home.

Manager Bassett of the Orpheum theatre has invited the Newark squad to be his guests at the Orpheum the night Friday evening and the invitation has been accepted and Owner Kiene, Manager Newnam, Coach Blue and the bunch of twenty odd will occupy seats in the front rows.

MAGNATES ARE LOOKING FOR A GOOD SEASON

Cincinnati Reds Encouraged by the Showing of Teams—Easy Money for Colored Fighters.

(By C. H. Zuber.)

Cincinnati, April 12.—Once more the baseball season is under way, and for the next six months the principal to be heard on the streets, in the markets of trade, and even in the synagogues will not be, "How's your mother?" or "Is business good?" but "What's the score?" The condition of the United States Treasury, the possibility of meeting the grocer's bill or the speculation as to whether it will be a girl, a boy or twins, all sink into nothingness compared to the importance of knowing whether "we" were victorious or vanquished.

Each year adds to the excitement of the opening games, and each year increases the number of followers of the game. This is true of the larger cities, the villages and the hamlets, and even in the strictly rural districts, where houses are far apart, the love for baseball is on the increase, making a new set of prospective big league performers, and bringing into the game a class of players that heretofore have existed only as rarities. No wonder that base ball is called the "National game." It is played by nearly every person physically able to play — and when they're not playing they're viewing. And it is promised that this season will see more playing and more viewing than ever before in the history of the game.

Locally we have been much encouraged over the games put up by the Reds just previous to the opening of the season. This was particularly true of the Sunday game with the Detroit Tigers. Jennings trotted out his strongest team for this occasion, while Griffith had to content himself with a substitute at second base in the person of Tom Downey. But the box artists whom Griffith offered were here with the goods. McQuillen and Gaspar delivered a brand of pitching merchandise that could hardly be beaten. The Tigers, despite the splendid batting practice they had had for the past four weeks, were practically helpless before these two twirlers, making but one hit off McQuillen in five rounds, and two off Gaspar in the final sessions. Not a run was garnered off the Red twirlers. As the locals managed to put one tally over in the ninth, the victory went our way. This performance demonstrated that both McQuillen and Gaspar are ready for strenuous work, and that they may be relied upon to bring home the pennant with some degree of frequency.

Looks as if the St. Louis Cardinals, with their four ex-Reds doing great work, are going to fool some of the wise ones this spring. When a team can down a rival seven times in succession, it must have some class. That's what the Cardinals did to the St. Louis Browns, of the American League, and it indicates that Breenahan's youngsters, steadiest by Huggins, Mowrey, Oakes and Ellis, former property of the Cincinnati team, and Konetchy and Breenahan as other veterans, are going to do some splendid work this season in the way of upsetting the dope among those who looked upon them as easy marks. The Cardinals will make their first appearance in Cincinnati on Sunday, April 15, and there is already a great demand for seats for this game, due to the good showing made by Breenahan's athletes this spring. The next Sunday game following on the local lot will be with the Pirates on April 22. Excursions on all roads.

Over in Paris they have the peculiar idea that white men should not batter each other up in the prize ring, and that this sort of thing should be limited to the sable exponents of the art of self defense. Consequently, fights between colored men are better patronized than are the scraps of the white pugilists. Joe Jeannette and Sam McVey, two of the best of black American scrappers, have already acquired fortunes by their series of battles at the French capital, and Sam Langford, the "Boston Tar Baby," is over there now to get his share of the shekels. While Johnson isn't doing any talking for publication behind the prison walls of San Francisco, where a penchant for speeding his auto landed him, it is said that as soon as he gets out he'll also be to Paris for some of the easy money. Meanwhile, the game is getting better for white fighters in America, indicating a more liberal spirit on the part of city officials everywhere.

Kentucky will see most of the racing in the United States during the present summer. The season, which opens next week, will include dates at Lexington, Louisville and Latonia, and is expected to bring out a better class of horses than has been seen on the Kentucky tracks in many years. This is due to the fact that the owners have no other places to race them except on the Canadian circuits, and these will be too cold for amonth or six weeks to make the sport really attractive. Taken all in all, however, there will be less racing in the United States this season, both on the running and the harness tracks, than in many previous years.

The storm traveled in a southwesterly direction, and, in addition to the heart, where it ended, and Whitins, the beginning, it touched Powhattan, Netawaka and Manville in Kansas.

Mrs. Ray Garmum was sitting on the porch of her home in Powhattan when the wind lifted the roof of the house from over her and tossed her into the yard. She suffered many cuts and had bruises.

A woman and a child were reported to have been killed in Pawhuska and many buildings were unroofed and shattered as they were torn from their foundations.

Esbridge is 25 miles south of Topeka, Kan. The storm struck at 3 o'clock. The new high school building was blown down and 20 students were injured. It is not believed that any of them were fatally wounded.

Couriers brought reports from Netawaka that several persons were hurt and that the damage to property is heavy.

George M. Scott an Atchison, Topeka, & Santa Fe engineer, was in Esbridge when the gale struck. He says fifteen persons were hurt. Benjamin Resch, his fireman, was blown through the window of his locomotive cab and across the street. He struck a building and was seriously injured.

The St. Joseph and Grand Island railroad depot and two box cars at Manville were blown away. Four houses were wrecked and a child was killed according to the dispatches from St. Joseph, Mo.

The weather observer at Sioux City, Iowa, reports a seventy-two-mile an hour gale, which damaged farm house and barns within a radius of 25 miles. The wind, in St. Louis registered 11 miles an hour, and several pedestrians were hurt by falling signs.

In St. Joseph and environs five persons were seriously hurt and many of the homes damaged by the gale. T. J. Welton was picked up in a downtown street by the wind, lifted to feet in the Men's and Young Men's Outfitters. EAST SIDE SQUARE.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

Mrs. Curt James of East Summit street, Alliance, entertained a number of small boys at a party for her son John on Saturday. The affair, which was a most delightful one, was in honor of the boy's eighth birthday. He received several nice presents, and a number of postcards to remind him of the same. Games and contests formed the pastime of the afternoon, and prizes were given. A delicious two course dinner was served by Mrs. James, assisted by Miss Nettle Abeglen and Miss Powell, covers being laid for Thomas Sexton, James Welch, Carl Kelley, Bernard Hartwell, Thomas Slattery, Ray Ketter, Morris Jones and Little Mary Jones. The center piece on the table was of carnations. The white birthday cake bearing a candle for each year was placed by the plate of the honor guest, and ribbons were extended from this to the place of the other guests. Green and white, the Easter colors, was the color scheme used. Pretty little Easter chickens were given as favors.—Alliance Leader.

Most delightful was the meeting held on Wednesday afternoon of the Wednesday Afternoon Thimble club at the home of Mrs. F. M. Howard in Clinton street. The club diversified their entertainment and then a program arranged by the mistress was given:

Piano solo—Miss Mary Hayman
Vocal solo—Miss Clotilde Howard
Violin solo—Mrs. Tower.
Readings—Miss Alta Sherburne.
Headings—Miss Olive Howard.
A delicious luncheon was served the members and following guests. Miss Agnew, Mrs. Hirst, Mrs. Hilliard, Mrs.

Harper, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Holler, Mrs. Doe, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Costrove, Mrs. Gabbe, Mrs. Clayton, Mrs. Tower, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Bail, Mrs. Donahue. Assisting the hostess were Misses Mary Hayman, Alta Sherburne, Mildred Robe, Clotilde Howard, Olive Howard.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Coad in St. Louisville on May 2.

The marriage of Miss Melan Oswald Ritter of this city and Dr. Edward McDowell Cass of Frazzysburg was quietly solemnized at 5 o'clock last evening by Rev. Joseph Taylor Brittan, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church. Dr. and Mrs. Cass will be at home at Frazzysburg after May 1.—State Journal.

The Wednesday Afternoon Sewing club held a most enjoyable meeting on the club day at the home of Mrs. Malcolm Baker in Hudson avenue. The hours passed merrily over the needlework and a delicious reception was served. The only guest of the club was Miss Edna Wise.

The Junior play at the high school will be given on Thursday, evening, April 29, at 8:15, when "Katharine and Petruchio," a comedy in four acts, from Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew," will be put on. The clever members of the cast have been better prepared for some weeks and it is assumed that when the curtain goes up it will be on a play worth seeing. It is under the direction of Miss Ewalt of the English department of the faculty.

Practical Housekeeping.

The Interesting Home.

THE trolley, bound from the centre of the city to the terminus of the line, was well filled with women. It was not the hour when business people were returning from work. It was too early for that. So that presumably the women who filled the car were housekeepers or stay-at-homes in some capacity whether workers or idlers. It was safe to assume that upon most of them depended to a large extent the making of some home. Some one else might earn the money for the maintenance of the home, but upon these women-riders rested the actual home-making.

Since it was reasonable to assume this, a study of them was interesting. What sort of homes were they making,—for the making of a home goes on from day to day. It is a job that is never finished. Sometimes it goes forward, sometimes backward. But it never stops. And these women when they reached their homes that late afternoon, would go on with their home-making at the point where they dropped it when they left for the day's shopping.

To judge by their faces, few of them looked as if they were on their way to interesting homes, or as if they would be much of an addition in making the home interesting after they got there. Indeed, few of them looked as if they were glad they were going home. In the main, they appeared bored and listless and somewhat grumpy. They looked as if when they got home they would still be bored and listless and grumpy. If not indeed decidedly cross, had the cook not carried out their orders or were the children noisy. They didn't seem to be expecting anything interesting at home, and no doubt their homes were just as uninteresting as they themselves appeared.

It is these dull, uninteresting homes that have so much to do with making life dull and uninteresting. They throw a cloak of gloom over the spirit the minute the front door is passed. There is little sunshine, no jolly surprises, not much gay laughter, no flowers, no music, in fact no brightness and life anywhere. All these things make home interesting and bring the family to it each night with keen relish. But when they are lacking, when there is an uninteresting routine that is never varied, the home has little interest or drawing power beyond that of duty, self-interest or force of habit.

It is not meant that there need be noise or excitement in the home, for often the tired worker appreciates nothing so much as quiet and rest. But one can have quiet and rest without the home's being commonplace or deadeningly uninteresting. There can be an undercurrent of brightness and cheer and interest that is as refreshing as the peacefulness of the home. But the woman who goes to her home with a bored, listless expression, who goes about her home wearing this same expression, is not likely to impart to the home the interest and zest that give life. She must get out of the rut of being commonplace and dull herself before she can lift her home out of it.

BEBOUT—MIKESELL.

At four o'clock Wednesday afternoon Rev. L. C. Sparks joined in holy wedlock Mr. Bert L. Bebout and Miss Pearl L. Mikesell, both residents of the vicinity of Perryton, this county. Miss Anna Mikesell, a sister of the bride, witnessed the ceremony, which took place at Mr. Sparks' home on North Fifth street. Their friends join in best wishes.

CUT GLASS AND CHINA.

Painty places of china and sparkling gems of cut glass tastefully arranged bespeak a housewife's sense of the beautiful. The most essential factor in the care of chinaware and cut glass, is freedom from dirt and grease, the enemies of brilliancy. Best results in this regard can be obtained by the use of Hewitt's Easy Task Soap. It loosens the dirt and cuts the grease, but does not scratch. Costs five cents and keeps things sparkling.

Twist Bread. A well shaped twist loaf is not so difficult to make. Take from the dough the usual amount and divide it in four equal parts. With slightly greased hands roll out three of the pieces until about an inch and a half thick in the center, half as thick at the ends and fully three times as long as the finished loaf. Begin with the center of each roll and braid loosely to one end, carefully turn the braid upside down, then begin again at the center and braid to the other end. Divide the fourth part into three pieces, roll out and braid in the same way as the larger ones; place on the top of the first braid and brush all over with milk. Let stand until light before baking.

Hot Cross Buns. Mix together two pounds of flour, one-half pound of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of mixed spices and one pound of currants. Make a hole in the middle of the flour, and put in a wineglassful of thick yeast and one-half pint of warmed milk. (Compressed yeast may be used nowaday.) Make a thin batter of surrounding flour and milk, and set the pan, covered before the fire until the leaven begins to ferment. Put to the mass one-half pound of butter, melted, and enough milk to make a soft paste of all the flour; cover this with a dust of flour and let it rise once more for half an hour. Shape dough into buns and lay them apart on buttered tins in rows, to rise for one-half hour. Press a cross mold on them (this may be done, roughly with the back of a knife) and bake in a quick oven from fifteen to twenty minutes. This amount of material is sufficient for two dozen buns.

UNCLE WALT

The Poet Philosopher

They locked Jack Johnsing up in jail, and charged him with some trifling fault; they spurned his offer of the kale, and threw him in a prison vault; he looked out from the rusty bars, a tear of sorrow in his eye, and thought upon the black eigers, the Great White Way and extra dry. Great men have suffered much the same in ages that have taken wing; Columbus wore upon his frame the fetters of an ingrate king. I think of all his woes and pains, and all my nerves with anger burn; the great Columbus bowed with chains! And now it's Little Arthur's turn. I cast my eye down the years and see John Bunyan in his cell, and watch him, through a mist of tears, write a legions passing well. Hummed in by walls of gloomy stone, the plaudits of a world to earn, he starved and labored, all alone—and now it's Little Arthur's turn. O noble souls that bravely bore the ingrate's and the tyrant's chains! I look the dusty records o'er, and all my stricken soul complains! Great Raleigh in his dungeon wrote and from his writings we may learn how grief may sound a noble note—and now it's Brotaer Johnsing's turn.

AMUSEMENTS

The Newtweeds and Their Baby.

Replete with funny situations, rich in excellent ballet work, bristling with new and clever jokes, and executed by one of the best musical comedy companies to be seen in Newark, "The Newtweeds and Their Baby" will open an engagement at the Auditorium theatre April 22 for two performances, to a crowded house.

The comedy, founded on cartoons originated by George McManus, is all that is claimed for it, is extremely clever in its plot, as musical comedy plots go, and the players are uniformly finished, from the ballet girls with their beautiful costumes, to the leading roles.

James E. Rosen, the midget, in the role of Napoleon Newtweed, the baby, leaves nothing to be desired, while the work of Leo Hayes as Newtweed he looks as though he might have stepped from one of the cartoons while Olga Hartzfeldt as Mrs. Newtweed is equally as good.

George P. Murphy as A. Nichol, head waiter, comes perilously near taking the show away from the leading roles, so good is his work. He gets the house on his first appearance and his high class interpretation of a German-Jew waiter, his remarkable facial contortion, his faithful reproduction of the realistic points of his role all make him easily one of the hits.

Graustark.

Have you read the book "Graustark?" Fate favors the fond lover who has the right motives and high principles. Mr. Lorry, a typical American, loves at first sight Princess Yette of Graustark; a western train leaves her at a way station; he wires the train and with Yette by his side in a carriage races to the next station. He follows her to New York, thence to Europe, picks up his friend Harry in Paris and tries to find Yette at Edelweiss, under the assumed name she gave him Guggenlocker. No one by that name there, he sees her by chance; he and Harry overhear a plot to abduct the princess from the castle. They slip by the guards in the night, enter the castle to save the princess. The Russians enter the castle; a great battle ensues between athletic Lorry and Harry on one side and the ruffians on the other; they save the princess but evil tongues put wrong motives on their presence there. Harry, just after this encounter, meets his Waterloo in the bright eyes and comely form of the countess, a friend of the princess. Edelweiss is deeply in debt and this beautiful princess is about to be enslaved by the rascally ruler of an adjacent principality to settle that debt but the rascally ruler is finally killed and the countess and Harry and the princess and Lorry enter Elysian fields of bliss.

An exceptionally strong company will reveal this popular romantic play at the Auditorium soon.

LEGISLATURE'S SPLENDID WORK UP TO DATE

The work of the Democratic general assembly thus far, although the session will not end for several weeks, does not suffer when compared with the results obtained during the entire session of the 1910 Republican general assembly. Indeed the work of the Democrats stands forth as highly progressive when compared to the record of broken promises and reactionary policy of the 1910 session.

What Republicans Did.

1. Passed Langdon tax bill creating the State Tax Commission, largely as a result of agitation by Governor Harmon and Democratic general assemblymen.
2. Passed the Norris Employers Liability bill, a measure that was neither satisfactory to manufacturers or union labor.

These constitute the only big measures, for which there was a state wide demand, enacted by the Republican general assembly. Of course, they passed many other bills, but they were of minor importance.

Among the important bills defeated by the Republican general assembly were the non-partisan judiciary bill, a measure providing for competitive bidding for state funds, the public utilities bill, shorter hours for employed women, while the central board of control bill was practically beaten by eliminating all but four institutions from the management of the central board. Many futile efforts were made to get an initiative and referendum bill through the Republican general assemblies.

No one, with the exception of former Republican legislature who helped make the record, will dispute the fact that it is a bad one.

What Democrats Have Done.

Ten measures were promised in that portion of the Democratic platform relating to state issues. Four of these pledges have been redeemed, and the others undoubtedly will be carried out before the session adjourns.

Pledges Redeemed.

1. Legislative action looking toward a convention of the states to make possible the direct election of United States senators.
2. Ratification of the proposed sixteenth federal constitution amendment, allowing congress to collect taxes on incomes.
3. Extension of the teaching of agriculture.
4. Law for the election of judges on a non-partisan ballot.

Four other pledges, the public utility, the shorter working hours for women, initiative and referendum, and the 1 per cent tax rate bill will be redeemed within the next week. The women's bill has passed the senate and is in the house while the 1 per cent tax rate bill, the initiative and referendum and the public utilities bill are

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

rate from the constitution so that the ratification of the new organic law will not be endangered by a fight between the Anti-Saloon and Personal Liberty Leagues.

An amendment offered by Senator Stockwell removing the statutory prohibition from public officers in becoming delegates, was adopted. This action was wise as the advice and counsel of men with actual experience in public affairs is needed.

The Democratic majority, as usual, was opposed by the Republican minority in their efforts to put forth the bill as desired by the governor. Led by Senator Todd, of Franklin, a Republican, the minority members made a vigorous fight to strike out the non-partisan feature of the bill. That was the vital clause in the measure. This battle was waged to maintain the dominance of political parties. It was a struggle to obtain an advantage for the Republican party, for in this state with a normal g. o. p. majority of 50,000, Republicans would of course control the constitutional convention, and would be expected to write a constitution in the interest of the Republican party.

The demand of the people for a constitution written by men who are not subject to the environments which have crippled so many public documents, was subordinated by Republican senators for party expediency.

CONG. ASHBROOK GETS THANKS FROM OLD SOLDIERS

The interview with Congressman W. A. Ashbrook on the political situation, published in the Advocate of March 21, in which Mr. Ashbrook outlined the work of the extra session of congress, explained the defeat of the Sulloway pension bill, and talked of several things of vital consequence to the old soldiers, has caused a very wide spread interest. Mr. Ashbrook has received quite a number of letters from old soldiers from all over the country thanking him for his constant efforts in their behalf, among them being the following:

Washington, April 5, 1911.
Hon. W. A. Ashbrook,
House of Representatives
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Ashbrook:—Thank you for the expressions of your interview, published in the Advocate at Newark, O., which I published in the National Tribune of this week, and will send you a marked copy of today.

Yours sincerely,
JOHN MCLEROY.

Mr. McElroy is the editor of the National Tribune, the soldiers' paper, which is read by old veterans all over the country, and coming from this source is greatly appreciated by Congressman Ashbrook as well as by the Advocate and his friends.

GRAY HAIR MAKES YOU LOOK OLD

A Simple Remedy Brings Back the Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

How often one hears the expression, "She is gray and beginning to look old." It is true that gray hair usually denotes age and is always associated with age. You never hear one referred to as having gray hair and looking young.

The hair is generally the index of age. If your hair is gray, you can't blame your friends for referring to you as looking old. You can't retain a youthful appearance if you allow your hair to grow gray. Many persons of middle age jeopardize their future simply by allowing the gray hair to become manifest. If your hair has become faded or gray, try Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation which a chemist by the name of Wyeth devised a few years ago. It is simple, inexpensive and practical, and will banish the gray hairs in a few days. It is also guaranteed to remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

It is a pleasant dressing for the hair, and after using it a few days itching and dryness of the scalp entirely disappear. This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Halls' Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Halls' Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

MARVEL FOR ANY SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

Wonderful Action of Elec-tro-la. The New Hair-Remover, Will Surprise You.

Nearly every man or woman who has been troubled with superfluous or undesirable hairs has had experience with various preparations which merely burn off the surface hair, reddens the skin, and fail to kill the hair roots.

Electro-la is the remarkable new hair remover which does more than merely kill the surface hair. It goes to the hair roots, destroys them absolutely and forever.

Besides this, Electro-la. Instead of burning or reddening the skin as other hair-removers do, leaves the skin fresh and soft, so nobody can ever tell you have been using anything. Whether the superfluous hair is of light or heavy growth, Electro-la will destroy it immediately and permanently.

Even light fuzz makes a woman look coarse. Heavy growth is humiliating, and is Cupid's worst enemy.

Make your face, arms, hands, shoulders, neck and bust look clean and exquisite by using Electro-la.

The regular price is $1.00 a bottle. Your money refunded if you are not satisfied.

Just send coupon below, with name and address, together with 2c stamp to pay for postage, for a free trial package of Electro-la to prove what it will do.

BOLTON TRIAL

in their pieces shortly after, and in a few minutes Bolton was brought from the county jail by Deputy Sheriff Woolson and took a seat among his attorneys.

During Wednesday night Sheriff Parker and his deputies served the summonses on the thirty men named in the special venire given him by Judge Wickham yesterday afternoon. When court began business twenty-eight responded to their names as called by Clerk Barmont, two of the men being reported sick, James Coe and John Kunkle.

Before the Bolton case was taken up Judge Wickham took up the civil docket of Knox county and granted several decrees for divorce.

The venire which reported this morning differed considerably from those previously served, as they were mostly mechanics and business men whose homes are in the city of Mt. Vernon.

Dwight Warman a machinist, of Mt. Vernon, examined by Miller, was opposed to capital punishment, but would return a verdict if evidence justified it. Challenge of state overruled. Had formed an opinion as to Bolton; again challenged and was excused.

Alfred Perrin, machinist, Mt. Vernon; by Miller, religiously opposed to capital punishment; excused.

William Appleton, Mt. Vernon, hardware clerk; by Miller: did not oppose death penalty, but had opinion as to Bolton and couldn't render a fair verdict; excused.

Clark Brown, Mt. Vernon liveryman; by Miller: believed in capital punishment; had formed no opinion; thought he could give Bolton his rights under the law if the evidence showed he was a saloonkeeper; passed by state and examined by Owen. "Would probably affect me if it was proven Bolton had been in saloon business." Challenge for cause by defense sustained, talesman excused.

Clark Bateman, Mt. Vernon laborer, not opposed to capital punishment; no opinion on Bolton. By Waight: "No prejudice against man in saloon business." Accepted.

J. R. Drake peremptorily challenged by defense.

Jarred Belt, electrician, Mt. Vernon, took Mr. Drake's seat; examined by Smythe; no scruples, no opinion; passed by state. By Waight: "could give Bolton as fair trial if a saloon keeper as in any other business."

J. H. Ridenour was peremptorily excused by the defense.

Tellis Patterson, farmer; by Smythe: Did not oppose capital punishment, but was prejudiced and defense's challenge for cause was sustained.

F. A. Clough, jewelry merchant, Mt. Vernon; by Smythe: opposed to death penalty. Excused.

Leroy Cochran, South Vernon, plasterer; by Smythe: Opposed to capital punishment. Excused.

C. F. Colville, after being passed by the state, claimed his exemption as being attorney at law and was excused.

John Conkle, retired farmer; by Miller: Opposed to death penalty and prejudiced on the "dry" side. Excused by the court without interposition of a challenge.

Fred Taylor, office clerk, Mt. Vernon; by Miller: Believed in death penalty; had opinion as to Bolton, but could lay it aside and render fair verdict. By Waight: Did not believe in saloons, but thought he could render a fair verdict if Bolton was proven a saloon keeper. Accepted, but challenged peremptorily by defense.

Howard Gates, insurance man, Mt. Vernon; by Miller: No scruples, no opinion. Not questioned by defense; accepted. At this point the defense had exercised eleven peremptory challenges and the state three, but the defense immediately exercised the twelfth, and Jarred Belt was excused.

F. L. Griffith, blacksmith, Mt. Vernon; by Smythe: Unalterably opposed, excused.

John Hawke, farmer; by Smythe: was opposed to death penalty, but could render fair verdict. Had cause in court in which Judge Waight was his counsel; challenged by state and excused.

Joseph Horn, opposed death penalty under all circumstances; excused.

E. B. Hill, carpenter; same.

Lyman Hunt, carpenter, Mt. Vernon; same.

James Stanton, barber, Mt. Vernon; same.

Frank McGugin, retired farmer; had an opinion, but thought he could render fair verdict; had no prejudice against a saloon keeper; accepted.

The state's fourth and last peremptory challenge was exercised against John Simpson.

M. E. CHURCH TO BE DEDICATED SUNDAY, MAY 14

The First Methodist Episcopal church, the finest church edifice in central Ohio, is rapidly coming to completion, and will be entirely finished in ample time for the dedication, which is set for May 14th.

A splendid array of talent has been secured for the eight days which is to comprise the "Feast of Dedication." Prominent among the bishops and eminent church men who will have a part in the program is Rev. Thomas Corwin Diff, D.D., of University Park, Colo.

Dr. Diff is one of the most widely known men of Methodism and participates in as many church dedication events as any man in the denomination. He will speak to the Sunday school in the morning and have charge of the finances throughout the day.

Monday evening, May 15th, he will deliver his famous lecture on "The Boys of '61 to '65, by One of Them." Dr. Diff served with distinction in the late Civil war and has a thrilling story to tell which will be of special interest to the old soldiers of the city who will receive a special invitation to be present and who will be accorded seats of honor, should they accept the invitation. WILL PASS BILL FOR DIRECT VOTE OF U. S. SENATORS

Washington, April 12.—When the house convened today, Tucker, Democrat, called up the joint resolution to elect United States senators by direct vote of the people. Mann asked that it go over for a few days and Young, Republican, complained about the haste to pass it. Tucker then denounced the Republicans for dilatory tactics and threatened to move to stop all debate.

Speaker Clark said that time would be allowed for debate, but added that the people have wanted this change for years, "and we are going to pass the bill today."

It was finally decided to give each side two hours.

THAT OLD SWEETHEART OF YOURS

How many men at middle age recognize in their careworn, overworked wives, the beautiful girls whom they won in their youth? Overwork produces premature age and should be avoided by using Hewitt's Gray Soap for kitchen and laundry work. It's the original white laundry soap and has been giving satisfaction for a quarter of a century. Costs five cents a cake, and you need its help.

Not Sisters

Now and again you see two women passing down the street who look like sisters. You are astonished to learn that they are mother and daughter, and you realize that a woman at forty or forty-five ought to be at her finest and fairest. Why isn't it so?

The general health of woman is so intimately associated with the local health of the essentially feminine organs that there can be no red cheeks and round form where there is female weakness.

Women who have suffered from this trouble have found prompt relief and cure in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and vitality to the organs of womanhood. It clears the complexion, brightens the eyes and reddens the cheeks.

No alcohol, or habit-forming drugs is contained in "Favorite Prescription." Any sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Every letter is held as sacredly confidential, and answered in a plain envelope. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

BOXWELL PATTERSON EXAMINATION

On Saturday, April 15, at the Newark High school building will occur the first of the two Boxwell-Patterson examination. These examinations are justly popular because they give the rural pupils an excellent opportunity for obtaining a high school education. Last year there were nearly four hundred took the examination and doubtless there will be as many this year.

Teachers and parents should not be too anxious about having the children pass. When they enter the high school they drop the common branches and unless they are well qualified they can not successfully do the high school work. Better be a year later in passing than enter high school poorly prepared and flounder about in high school work and get discouraged. Be well prepared and all will be well.

Second examination May 20.

Golden Sun Coffee

Rare is keen, tangy, sparkling, Navarre—piquant, high-flavored; Briardale—soft, mellow, velvety; Vienna—rich, savoury, aromatic; Mocha and Java—that delicious, distinct brew produced only by the most expert blending of these famous grades. All under the name of Golden Sun Coffee—remember that.

Each blend has been produced from the plant to pot to suit your taste.

Our packages are air-tight. If you know that coffee is 95 per cent volatile oil you'll appreciate what this means. In Golden Sun Coffee you get all that indefinable essence which is the "life" of coffee and which you miss in ordinary coffees.

Try your blend of Golden Sun Coffee tomorrow morning and know what a perfect send-off for the day a cup of coffee can be.

Your grocer will take special interest in delivering your particular Blend for he knows better than anyone else how fully Golden Sun Blends settle all coffee troubles.

FUNERAL OF THOS. SHEPPARD AT GRANVILLE

Interment Made at Maple Grove Cemetery Thursday Afternoon.
News of the Village.

Granville, April 12.—After having been on the road for about a week, the body of the late Thomas H. Sheppard, who died in Los Angeles, Cal., arrived in Granville on Wednesday evening at 5:45 o'clock over the Toledo and Ohio Central Railway, coming by way of Chicago. The funeral services, which were held at the Baptist church Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, were attended by a large number of the relatives and friends of the deceased. The services, which were very beautiful and touching were conducted by Dr. C. J. Baldwin, who was intimately acquainted with the deceased while in life. The interment was made in Maple Grove cemetery.

The deceased had been in poor health for a number of years and made his home in the far west several different times. A few years ago he purchased a ranch near Phoenix, Arizona, which he operated for several years, returning each summer to Granville in order to avoid the intense heat of the far Southwest. He did not return to Granville during the heated period of 1910, but instead went to the Pacific coast where he was engaged during the late summer and autumn on the Los Angeles Times. Last December he was attacked with the grip, but with characteristic inflexibility he kept on with his work until Dr. Gibbons of Los Angeles ordered him in to the Methodist hospital in South Hope street. Here he remained until his death by Bright's disease, tenderly cared for by Dr. Gibbons, his physician. Dr. Merrill, the osteopath, who attended him, Rev. Gale Seaman and many other friends of his boyhood. Dr. Merrill and Mr. Seaman are Denison men, a fact which rendered their ministrations all the more acceptable to the stricken man.

Tommy Sheppard was a man who was beloved by all who knew him, and he will live long in the memory of his many friends.

The faculty of Denison University has elected the publishers of the Denisonian for the coming year. The fortunate men are Messrs. F. M. Derwacher and W. E. Huffman. Both are members of the Callopan Literary Society and have been prominent in literary work. Mr. Derwacher will have charge of the editorial division of the paper. He has had considerable experience in writing and promises a great improvement for the college paper. Mr. Huffman will be manager of the publication.

Thomas, the fourteen year old son of Mr. Henry Allison, residing several miles north of the village, sustained a very painful injury Wednesday, from the effects of which he will be confined to his home for some days. Thomas, together with a number of other boys, was engaged at play around a barn, when he slipped and fell, striking his head against a stone, and cut a gash several inches long in it. A doctor was called and it required several stitches to close the wound.

While the weather is yet a little unseasonable, it is a fact that the "good old summer time" has sent her "advance agent," Miss Spring, on the road again, and on all sides can be seen the evidences of her coming. She is decorating every vacant spot with advertisements of the coming summer play. Hill and valley, tree and shrub are being hung with fancy signs, and all along the road between Granville and Newark, the farmers are turning over the sod and getting a good start for the spring work. The economical and thrifty housewife is also desirous of assisting in the program of Miss Spring, by preparing the garden pots of decoration, and the nicely spaded and graded beds of earth in the back yard and in the little nooks and corners, is indicative of the juicy lettuce and the tender young onion and other table delicacies as well as flowers and shrubs.

Word has been received from Dr. E. W. Hunt, president of Denison University, that he has been greatly benefited by his trip south. He left Cincinnati on the first of April for a trip down the Mississippi to New Orleans. From that point he sailed for New York and is expected to reach that place tomorrow. He will probably be at his home in Granville by the first of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Dollison, of Cleveland, who have been visiting here and in the vicinity during the past few days, left Thursday morning for Dayton, O., where they will make a short visit before returning home.

There will be a meeting of the trustees of Denison University on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, at which many things for the welfare of the college will be considered. Among other matters that will be brought before the board is the question of athletic fee.

Mrs. M. E. Leon of Cleveland, O., is visiting her sister-in-law, Miss Anna Leon, at her home here for a few days.

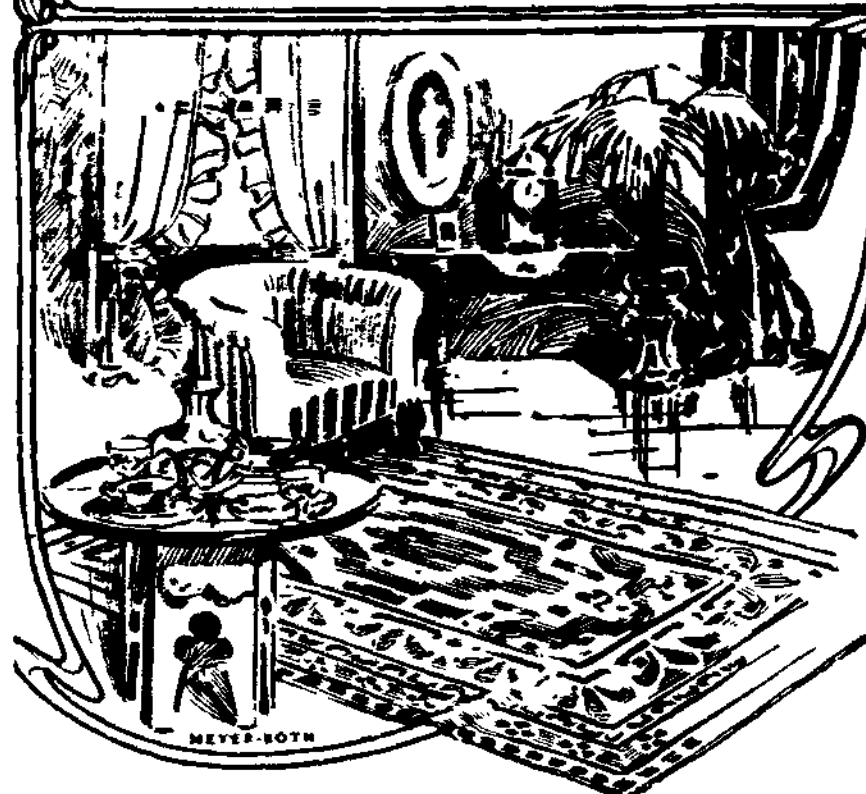

Miss Mary Jenkins of Steubenville, O., who has been here for some days, visiting relatives and friends, returned home Thursday.
